But Barry Still Leads GOP

Nixon's Stock Zooms

EDITOR'S NOTE — An October poll of the Republican county leaders showed Barry Goldwater was their overwhelming choice for next year's presidential nomination. Now a second poll by The Associated Press shows these Republicans have sharply revised their thinking since President Kennedy's death.

By RELMAN MORIN
A.P. Special Correspondent
Richard M. Nixon's 1964 presidential stock has skyrocketed since President Kennedy's death while Sen. Barry Goldwater's has fallen sharply, a second poll of Republican county chairmen indicates today.

But Goldwater again led all potential nominees.

The poll, taken by Associated Press correspondents in all 50 states, brought replies from 1,361 GOP leaders, a majority of whom also participated in a poll in October.

Although still in front, Goldwater's vote was only about half the spectacular total he rolled up in the AP's October poll. Then, 85.1 per cent of those

Rhodes To Accept Favorite Son Nod?

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes reportedly is "ready to accept the nod as Ohio's favorite son for the Republican presidential nomination."

The Plain Dealer also said today it has learned on "high authority" that state delegates will go to the national convention next July in San Francisco under the joint leadership of Rhodes and Ohio GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

participating named the Arizona senator as the party's "strongest candidate" against Kennedy. His figure in the second poll was 44.2 per cent.

Nixon, vice president under President Eisenhower, showed the greatest gains and ran second to Goldwater.

Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam — barely mentioned in the October poll — was third, finishing ahead of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, only announced candidate for the nomination.

Those queried included some members of the national committee and city and town leaders. Two questions were presented:

1. "On the basis of present conditions, in light of the death of President Kennedy, whom do you consider the strongest candidate for the Republican nomination?"

2. "Whom do you think the party will nominate?"

New Evidence Hints No Life Exists on Mars

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is new evidence that the planet Mars is crossed by great yellow clouds of toxic smog.

If so, it could mean that earth's last chance of finding a life-supporting planet in this solar system is gone.

Some astronomers have conjectured that the yellowish clouds seen on Mars are mostly dust, and the planet's whites and blues have been associated with snow and water.

But Drs. Sebastian Karrer and Carl C. Kiess reported today evidence that the clouds are mostly gases of compounds of oxygen and nitrogen—the same eye-burning, choking, toxic gases of earth's smog.

They split the light from the planet's telescopic image by powerful spectroscopic techniques and found the pattern that is yielded by the gas nitrogen dioxide.

Nitrogen dioxide—a partnership of one nitrogen atom and two of oxygen—appears yellow—and in dense concentrations looks brownish yellow, changing

Wheat Licenses Issued by U.S.

2 Firms Permitted To Sell to Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department has issued conditional licenses for sale of $40.6 million of wheat to Russia—but whether there will be a deal remains to be seen.

The two licenses—for $20,320,000 each—were issued Thursday to two unnamed American firms.

The permits allow the sale of the U.S. grain provided various conditions are met. These conditions, under announced U.S. government policy, include stipulations on financial and shipping terms.

If the Soviet Union agrees to these terms, then the two U.S. companies have permission to go through with the sale, a Commerce Department spokesman said.

Nearly three months ago, the late President John F. Kennedy gave the green light to proposed private sales of U.S. wheat to Russia. Soviet negotiators, however, have been balking at the American terms.

The Russians have objected particularly to the U.S. requirement that part of the grain be shipped on U.S. vessels, whose rates are higher than those of foreign shippers.

The U.S. traders who applied for the licenses were said to have indicated that the Russians were proposing to pay cash. This would appear to rule out complications over extending credit to them, although the licenses did not specifically require cash.

The shipping requirement has been the bigger stumbling block

Salem Youth Hurt In Two-Car Crash

A Salem youth is reported in fairly good condition at the Central Clinic following a two-car mishap on W. Pershing St. at 1:16 p.m. Thursday.

Stephen Bateman, 20, of 861 Highland Ave., suffered a fractured right knee and contusions of the left arm when the car he was driving struck an auto driven by John Beverly, 22, of 125 Washington St., Lisbon.

Police said Beverly was making a left turn into an alley about 250 feet west of S. Howard Ave. when Bateman started to pass, sideswiped Beverly's auto, went over the curb and struck a utility pole.

Bateman was cited for reckless operation.

The poll reflected a drastic revision of Republican opinion as a result of the assassination of Kennedy. A number of those who replied said they were "confused," "undecided," or "too early to say."

Goldwater's strength, as before, came mainly from the South, the Middle West and the West.

The GOP convention is scheduled to open in San Francisco July 13 with a tentative apportionment of 1,308 delegate votes. Needed to win will be 655 votes.

Johnson, vacationing at his ranch near Johnson City, Tex., had no comment on Goldwater's charge that the President had unfairly put pressure on Congress in his fight over the foreign aid money bill.

Observers noted that Goldwater, figured by the polls as the front runner among possible GOP presidential contenders before the Nov. 22 assassination of John F. Kennedy, had begun jabbing at Johnson at least two weeks ahead of his previously announced schedule.

In a Dec. 5 interview, Goldwater announced a "major reassessment" of his plans and said that he would wait until after Johnson's State of the Union address Jan. 8 before assessing the new President.

Noting that Johnson would start to establish his own record at that time, Goldwater said that "shortly thereafter the Republican party will begin to praise or to criticize."

With Thursday's blast, sent to Senate Republicans from his Phoenix home where he is recuperating from minor surgery, Goldwater came out swinging at both Johnson's policies and his methods.

"I deeply resent the President's attempts to play politics with Christmas by stampeding votes on the highly questionable foreign aid bill," he said, adding that Johnson was "trying to

Two Killed In Flaming Crash Near Alliance

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Two county employees were killed Thursday in the flaming crash of a two-tanker rig loaded with 8,000 gallons of oil and gasoline and their Stark County Engineer's Department snowplow.

The fiery collision occurred at the intersection of Ohio 173 and MacCallum Road three miles west of Alliance.

Dead were Anthony Trazzino, 24, driver of the snowplow, and Joseph Pucci, 21, a passenger. Both are from Canton.

Flames shot 150 feet high and could be seen for miles.

Highway patrolmen said the county vehicle was southbound on McCallum road and pulled into the path of the eastbound tanker, failing to yield the right of way.

The tanker's first trailer contained 4,000 gallons of fuel oil, which burned. The gasoline did not burn.

The truck driver, Daniel Leone, 36, of Massillon, was thrown from the tractor of his truck at impact and just as the fire flashed up. He was saved from being seriously burned.

Russian Family To Head Home

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Victor Pozdnev and his family head home for Moscow today. They leave behind dozens of new American friends whom they may never see again, but carry with them memories they'll never forget.

Pozdnev, his wife, Nina, and their two children were to go by car to Cincinnati, where the Russian family was to board a jet airliner. They were scheduled to arrive at New York's Kennedy International Airport at 4:45 p.m. and leave for Moscow three hours later.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. McKenzie, the Russian family's hosts for the past eight days on a unique gesture of international friendship at Christmas time, planned to take the Pozdnevs to Cincinnati.

Developed By Jaycees

"Operation Peace on Earth" was developed and carried out by the Portsmouth Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees invited Russian family to spend the Christmas holidays in the Southern Ohio city.

Selected as the holiday guests were Pozdnev, a tall, dark-haired automotive engineer in a Moscow compact car plant; his stocky, round-faced and always smiling wife; and their two children, 6-year-old Olga and 16-year-old Anatoly.

The visit was a whirlwind of activity from the Pozdnevs' arrival on Dec. 19 until their departure today. First there were visits to supermarkets and shops, automobile showrooms and factories. Anatoly saw a high school basketball game, Olga saw the toys and games that keep American 6-year-olds happy. Mrs. Pozdnev went on a series of shopping trips, and her husband test-drove American cars.

Exchanged Presents

Then came Christmas, and the Pozdnevs exchanged presents with McKenzie, his wife and their five children. Although the Russians don't celebrate Christmas, they joined their hosts in a holiday dinner.

The Pozdnevs expressed their appreciation for the trip through Mrs. Pozdnev — An English teacher and the only one of the family who speaks English—at a Kiwanis luncheon Thursday.

"We're very glad that this trip was your idea and that of the American people," she said. She added that she hoped such an exchange could be made on a much larger scale between the people of her nation and the United States.

Looking back on her visit, "The greatest impression of the trip to me and the rest of my family has been the friendly attitude and reception we have experienced. The people have been so enthusiastic and interested."

Earlier, her husband commented that it is not enough "just to read about each other, because what we read is not al-

Philippines To Aid In Mending Rift

U.S., Cambodia OK Mediation Offer

MANILA (AP) — The United States and neutralist Cambodia have agreed to try to settle their dispute with the help of the Philippines.

"Initial contacts have been made and will continue," Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez of the Philippines said today. "So far the situation seems encouraging."

U.S.-Cambodian relations deteriorated rapidly after the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, announced Nov. 19 he would accept no more American aid and ordered U.S. military and economic personnel to leave his Southeast Asian nation. There have been fears in the West that Cambodia is drifting toward Communist China.

Lopez said he conferred twice with U.S. Ambassador William

Espionage Case Angers Bulgarians

VIENNA (AP)—Several thousand anti-American demonstrators smashed all windows on the first three floors of the U.S. legation in Sofia, Bulgaria, today, a legation spokesman reported by telephone.

The demonstrators also overturned four American cars outside the building.

The demonstration was in protest against alleged U.S. employment of a former Bulgarian diplomat, Ivan Asen Christof Georgiev, as a spy.

Georgiev, No. 2 man of Communist Bulgaria's U.N. delegation from 1959 to 1961, pleaded guilty before Bulgaria's Supreme Court Thursday to spying for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. He implied that he expected the death penalty.

The legation spokesman said he felt Bulgarian police "took

Among the advantages to the state, Nelson listed the following:

1. The elimination of a dangerous railroad crossing on existing Rt. 9.

2. The removal of Rt. 9 traffic through a congested industrial area.

3. Utilization of the new W. State St. overpass.

4. Direct connection between Rt. 9 and Rt. 14 alternate.

Youngstown Man Held In Slaying of Two

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Leroy McBride, 28, was in police custody today in connection with the fatal shootings of his ex-wife and a man.

Dead of gunshot wounds are Rose McBride, 24, and Pride Fletcher, 43. Both lived at 25 South Forest Avenue, scene of the shootings Thursday night.

Homicide detectives gave no motive, although they said McBride had argued earlier in the day with his former wife.

McBride visited the home of his ex-wife and they stood in the doorway talking. McBride pulled out a 12-gauge shotgun from under his topcoat, felled the woman with one shot in the back, then went into the house and fired once at Fletcher, according to authorities.

Fletcher was killed instantly and the woman died early today at South Side Hospital.

McBride went next door after the shootings and asked neighbors to summon police. He was charged with suspicion.

Johnson Eyes Cyprus Crisis

President Awaits Arrival of Erhard

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—Foreign affairs dominated President Johnson's activities today as he keeps watch on the Cyprus crisis and prepares for talks with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany.

Erhard is the first major European leader to hold full-scale talks with the new American President. He flies in to Houston this afternoon and begins two days of conferences at the LBJ Ranch Saturday.

Summoned to the holiday White House in the Texas hill country today were half a dozen Washington officials including Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

McCone's mission was described as a routine one to brief the President on developments abroad — on Cyprus and elsewhere. From Rusk, Johnson was to hear about Cyprus and the two-day Erhard visit that begins Saturday.

Freeman was assigned to help Johnson discuss farm trade problems with the new German chancellor.

Foreign affairs have held a priority position in Johnson's official routine since Thursday afternoon.

He created then a nine-man governmental committee to make a hurry-up study of the beleaguered foreign aid program and recommend basic structural changes.

The holiday White House made public a series of personal messages in which Johnson appealed for a quick halt to "this terrible fraternal strife" between Turks and Greeks on Cyprus.

In letters to Archbishop Makarios, president of Cyprus, Vice President Fazil Kutchuk, and President Cemal Gursel of Turkey, Johnson pledged complete support for any reasonable action to halt the Cypriot blood letting.

The Foreign Aid Committee, headed by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, was given until Jan. 15 to look at aid programs, economize, simplify and strengthen them.

Erhard's Texas talks are expected to range from trade and European Common Market problems to West German misgivings about Western negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Greeks, Turks Disagree Over 3-Nation Unit

Warring Factions Still Observing Yule Cease-Fire

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British patrols moved through Nicosia today to keep the peace on explosive Cyprus, but disagreement delayed plans for Greek and Turkish soldiers to join them.

At the southeast port of Larnaca, a British soldier was shot and slightly wounded in the shoulder while on a similar patrol. The patrols are designed primarily for the protection of British civilians.

In Nicosia, however, the British were waved through roadblocks of both Greek and Turkish armed Cypriots, whose fighting in five bloody days beginning last Saturday caused grave international concern.

Unable To Agree

Commanders of the British, Greek and Turkish garrisons stationed on this eastern Mediterranean island met in the morning but were unable to agree on the composition of the mixed patrols.

"We have British patrols out, whose primary purpose is to protect British families," Lt. Gen. P.G. Young, British army commander on Cyprus, told reporters after the meeting.

Young said there were no Greek and Turkish army patrols out and it would take longer to organize them because of language difficulties.

The small Turkish and Greek army garrisons remained at opposite ends of this capital. Their movement from their treaty bases into Nicosia Christmas Day led to fears of a showdown that might embroil Greece and Turkey, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Few Shots Heard

Greek and Turkish Cypriots generally have observed the Christmas Day cease-fire, ending a conflict that began Saturday with an exchange of gunfire between a Greek Cypriot police patrol and Turkish Cypriots.

But a few shots still could be heard at times from the northeast sector of the border dividing the Greek and Turkish sectors of Nicosia as the first British column entered the Turkish sector.

The government of Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president, appealed for public cooperation with the joint Greek, Turkish-British patrols "so that the task of the forces in assisting in restoration of law and order may be more effectively achieved."

The latest eruption of fighting in the long antagonism between the Mediterranean island's Greek majority and Turkish minority aroused growing international concern.

Asks UN Meeting

Cyprus asked for a meeting of the U.N. Security Council, charging Turkey with aggression and use of force. Turkey denied the charges.

Britain ordered 1,000 infantry-

Board To Certify 16 Delinquent Candidates

The County Election Board is preparing to certify to secretary of State Ted W. Brown and Prosecuting Atty. G. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

State law requires the board to certify the names. It also bars those who did not comply with the reporting law from seeking public office again for five years.

The reports are required under the so-called "Corrupt Practices Act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. All successful candidates filed the reports before the deadline, O'Hanlon said.

Bliss Gets Job From U.S. Navy

A $600,000 contract for jet aircraft catapults has been awarded by the U. S. Navy to the E. W. Bliss Company's Aircraft Launching & Recovery Equipment division, Drexel Hill, Pa.

The new equipment is a modification of the launching system for the Marine Corps' SATS program—Short Airfields for Tactical Support. A trackless catapult featuring a single nylon tape has been devised to hurl jet fighter aircraft into the air in 1,000 feet or less from "vest pocket" airstrips.

Live aircraft tests of Bliss' first production model under the contract will be held at the Naval Air Facility, Lakehurst, N.J. The prototype of the single-tape equipment was demonstrated earlier for Navy and Marine Corps aviators at Bliss' test site, Woodbine, N.J. An 18,000-pound F4D airframe was launched at an end-speed of about 140 knots.

The Marine Corps uses SATS equipment to increase its "brushfire" battle capabilities by allowing aviation wings to operate from short forward airfields where jet fighters could not take-off and land without launching and arresting gear.

Bliss designed and built SATS equipment for the Marines following the Korean war when the need for "instant" tactical air support was established.

Lisbon Yule Mail Volume Showed Hike

LISBON — The volume of Christmas mail and revenue from postage for cards, letters and packages this year were greater than last, Postmaster Howard Hochmann reports.

Cards and letters postmarked Dec. 1-24 totaled 204,611 compared to 195,104 last year. The biggest days were Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 16 and 17, with 24,000 and 21,000 cancellations, respectively. No day in the 1962

Christmas season reached 20,000 cancellations.

Hochmann said the revenue Dec. 1-24 was $10,782 compared to $7,609 during the same period last year. The gain reflects the postal rate increase last Jan. 1.

Monday, Dec. 16, was the biggest day moneywise with an income of $1,054.50. That compares with a daily high last year of $833 on Dec. 10 — also a Monday.

Moslems To Accord Pope Deep Respect

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A noted Moslem scholar hopes Pope Paul's pilgrimage to the Holy Land next week will promote more sympathetic understanding among Christians and Moslems, linked by many common beliefs but separated by wide gulfs.

Mohammed Zafrullah Khan, a leading authority on Islam, predicts the pontiff will be received by Moslems with deep respect, because sayings of the Prophet Mohammed enjoin his followers to honor those who are honored among their own people.

Zafrullah Khan, former United Nations General Assembly president and former foreign minister of Pakistan, is now a member of the International Court. He believes the great religions gradually are drawing closer and he hopes the papal visit will help that process.

Pope Paul will travel through Israel, which regards itself as the national home of all Jews, and through neighboring Jordan, whose population, while containing many Christians, is predominantly Moslem and ruled by a young king claiming descent from the prophet.

Islam, the religion of the Moslems, comes from the Arabic word Aslama, meaning submit. Moslem comes from the same root, and means one who has submitted. The Koran, Islam's bible, is the body of revelations from God to his prophet, Mohammed. But Mohammed was mortal. Moslems do not consider him divine.

What separates Islam and Christianity, both cradled in the Holy Land? Zafrullah Khan says the greatest difference is in how they regard Jesus Christ.

To Christians in general, Jesus the Messiah is the Son of God, one of the Holy Trinity of Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

To Moslems, Jesus is an honored prophet, but not the Son of God except in the sense that all men are God's children. To Moslems, belief in a trinity is to imply that there is more than one God.

Both Christians and Moslems revere the Jewish prophets of the Old Testament. Both believe in a judgment day and life after death, both believe Jesus is in heaven and has access to God. But there are differences.

The Moslems have no priesthood. Islam has imams—leaders, and teachers, but it is the most secular of religions.

To Moslems, the emphasis is on a god of power. The idea of god of love is less evident than in Christianity.

Islam is based on the five pillars: faith, prayer, alms, fasting and pilgrimage to Mecca in Saudi Arabia. These are the duties of a Moslem, and every Moslem hopes to become a hadj, one who has made the pilgrimage.

British Clamor For Inquiry Into Lakonia Disaster

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home is studying demands for a full British inquiry into the Lakonia ship disaster.

Latest figures issued by the ship's Greek owners put the number of known survivors at 901, the dead at 96 and the missing at 31.

The Greek Line said no official list of the dead and missing would be issued before Wednesday morning to permit double checking.

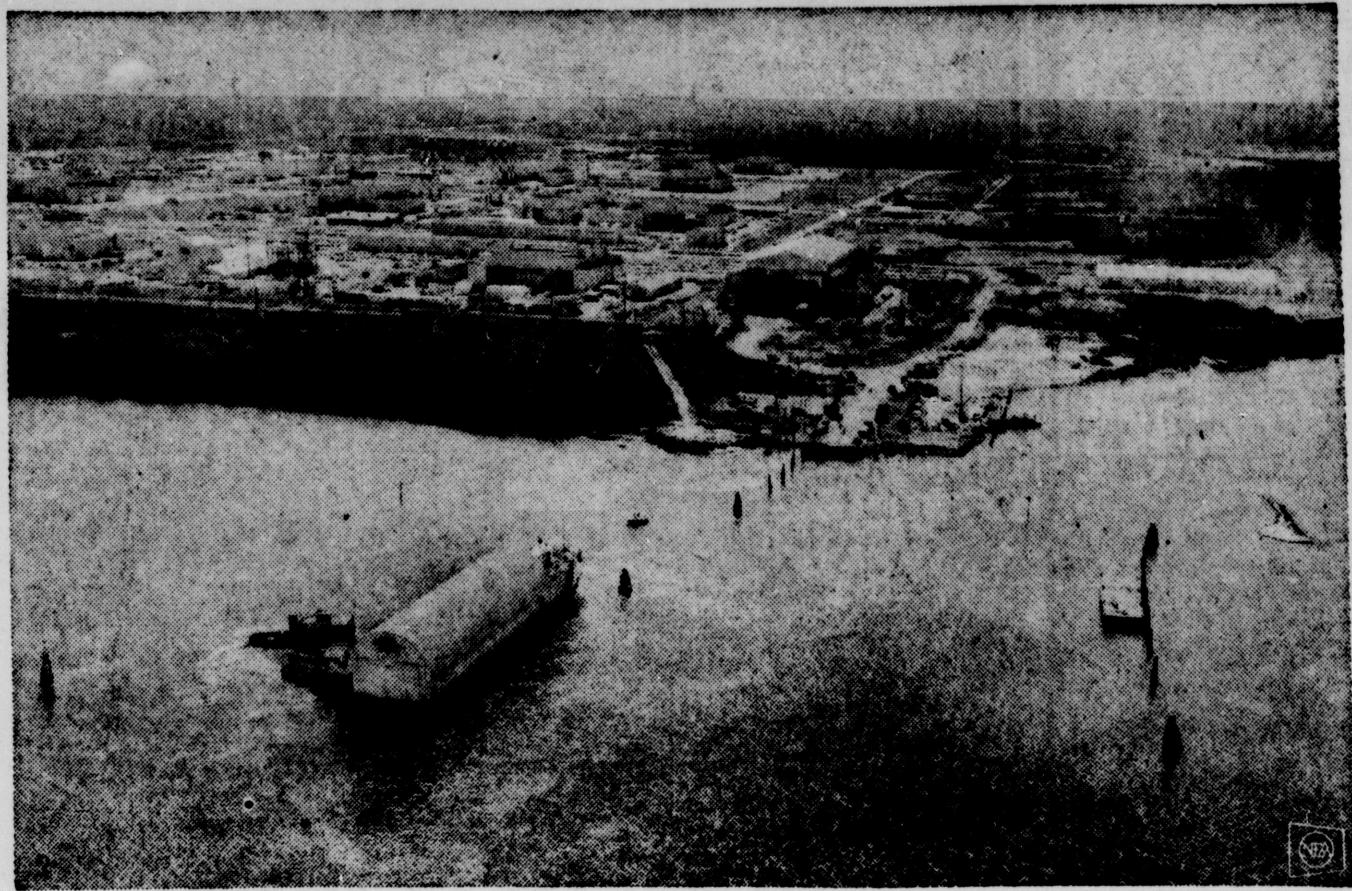

The prime minister agreed Thursday night to consider the demand of Patrick Gordon Walker, Labor party spokesman on foreign affairs, for a British inquiry.

Most British newspapers supported the demand.

Gordon Walker said the British government should inquire into the tragedy because most of the Lakonia's 651 passengers were British and the cruise was organized by agents in Britain.

The ship's owners have refused to answer in detail allegations by some survivors that members of the Lakonia's crew behaved badly. The shipping line said its first duty was to repatriate survivors and inform relatives of casualties.

No One Hurt In District Road Mishaps

Two vehicle operators were cited Thursday by the state highway patrol following district road mishaps from which all persons involved emerged uninjured, including a Salem motorist.

A McKeesport, Pa., truck driver was cited for speed excessive for conditions after a one-vehicle mishap at 5:30 a.m. on Route 14, six-tenths of a mile east of Route 7. The semi operator, Charles L. Ackerman, 35, went off the right side of the road, struck a highway warning sign, and crossed the pavement and hit a utility pole, causing moderate damage to his westbound tractor-trailer, the Lisbon post of the State Highway Patrol said.

After striking the rear of a Salem auto, a North Madison motorist was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance. The Canfield Patrol reported Doil Prendergast, 25, of 608 Cherry St., Salem was driving north on Route 45 when at 1:50 p.m. a half mile north of Route 165 he was hit from behind by a car operated by Donald Currey, 27, Neither was hurt.

LBJ To Blend Music, Menu For Erhard's Ranch Visit

JOHNSTON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is planning to blend music and menu to help West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard feel at home on the LBJ Ranch this weekend.

The President has asked pianist Van Cliburn, a pride of Texas, to play music of German composers at an indoor barbecue.

The piece de resistance of a luncheon after Erhard's arrival Saturday will be a Texas-German chocolate cake cooked up from a recipe brought to the one Star State by German pioneers in the early 1800s.

The First Lady and her staff are turning from Christmas festivities to arrangements for a weekend of work and Texas hospitality.

The President's comfortable, pine-paneled ranch office, where the family Christmas tree stands, is being turned over to Erhard and his staff. The gathering U.S. staff will be housed in guest houses.

The two ranch living rooms, one with a huge hooded fireplace, will serve as conference rooms.

The State Department in Washington was sending along German flags to fly at the ranch and along the route to surrounding towns Erhard will see.

Mrs. Johnson was busy working with a Fort Worth caterer, who will put on the barbecue Sunday in the gymnasium of Stonewall School, in the tiny community near Johnson's birthplace.

The menu for 400 guests was to be barbecued beef, ribs, hickory gravy, ranch beans, sourdough biscuits, German potato salad, Texas coleslaw, hot fried pies and coffee.

The meal was to be served Western style from chuck wagons to tables, with red checkered cloths and lanterns.

Two U.S. Airmen Drown In England

LONDON (AP) — Two U.S. airmen drowned Thursday night when their car plunged into a canal 65 miles north of London as the winter's thickest fog enveloped Britain.

The Americans' car swerved off a traffic circle into the canal at Mildenhall. There was fog in the area and roads were icy.

Killed were Airman 1.C. William McFarland, 22, of Hartsville, S.C., and Airman 1.C. Thomas Franklin, 20, of Ryder, N.D., both stationed at nearby Lakenheath Air Base.

McFarland is survived by his widow, Gloria, and Franklin by his widow, Dianne, and three children.

Britain was counting its highest Christmas highway toll in four years with at least 94 dead and the count still incomplete. Fog, ice and reckless driving were blamed for the accidents.

The Odds On Judgment

A militant group of Ohioans trying for years to give 18-year-olds the right to vote will be cheered by one recommendation in a report by the President's Commission on Registration and Voting. We're not enthused.

In its three-part report, the commission urges all states to consider dropping the minimum voting age to 18 and called for eliminating poll taxes and literacy tests as voting qualifications.

Well, Ohio doesn't have poll taxes or literacy tests to worry about and, as far as we're concerned, it doesn't need a lower minimum voting age, either.

WE THOUGHT we'd heard all the arguments for lowering the voting age, but the presidential commission has tossed us a new one.

The major argument, it says, is that by the time young people are 21, they are "so far removed from the stimulation of the educational process that their interest in public affairs has waned."

Oh? Does that mean that our educational process is so faulty its effect on students is lost after a few short years?

If that's the case, why not let every high school freshman with a civics course under his belt walk up to the ballot box while everything is fresh in his mind?

If mature, independent thinking is part of intelligent voting, and we think it is, there is even reason to wonder whether the voting age shouldn't be raised a couple of years.

WE'RE CERTAIN many 18-year-olds and a lot of 21-year-olds, too, are still in the grips of a cycle that runs from through rebellion and "free" thinking, ending, ideally, at mature judgment.

True, many never make it, but the odds get better with age. Judgment is the only bonus there is for growing older. Not that everybody gets the bonus, understand, but only that everybody has a chance to get it.

One Thing Didn't Change

It would be fun to show the modern world to someone who had been shut up in prison for 64 years. The people who have taken Richard Honeck, 84, in tow after he served that long for the crime of murder are making the most of their exciting opportunity.

Everything has changed in two-thirds of a century, and nearly everything in the material world has changed for the better. The affluent life in the United States is more than a phrase; it is a reality compared with life in other places, even those where life is more privileged than average.

Lifer Honeck has ridden in his first jet airplane and had his first ride in a modern car. He has seen superhighways, modern lighting, supermarkets, hospitals, color photography, synthetic fibers, frozen food — all wonderful.

But has this old man who spent so long in prison been able to detect any progress in the place where his own failure caused him to be shut up in a cell for 64 years for snuffing out a human life?

What will he think when he has been outside long enough to realize that violent death and homicide are no farther away than a speeding car in the hands of a driver who neither knows or cares about the sanctity of human life — never farther than the next hoodlum or madman with a gun or knife who feels the impulse to kill.

If this old man lives, his impressions a year from now would make excellent reading. It's just possible he may want to be back in prison where he would be safe.

When a husband talks in his sleep but gives no secrets away it's mind over matter.

It's too bad auto manufacturers can't install horse sense right along with horse power.

Pedestrian Death

Salem's record of no pedestrian fatalities in four years was marred in the waning days of 1963 with the fatal injuring of a man who stumbled into the path of a car on the Depot Road. Had the accident occurred a few yards farther south, the city would possibly have escaped another year without a man or woman being killed on local streets.

The tragedy should serve as a reminder that death sometimes can be just inches away and it should put all of us on the alert to be more cautious, whether we are driving a car or attempting to cross the street. A constant awareness of traffic safety could bring us an unblemished traffic record in the year that lies ahead.

Sounds Like Fun

By Truman Twill

I wonder if I could manage an old-time belly-slammer.

My last slammer was 18 years ago. In my honest opinion, I handled it with grace and verve.

In my honest opinion, I still could. What's 18 more years?

But I wonder...

Would I have the nerve to make the long run, throw down the sled and slam down on it, keeping the feet in position to drag right or left as necessity might dictate?

Could I stand the snow flying up in my face and sifting into my eyes? Was it as much fun as I think it was? Or was it fun only because it was done in childhood?

...I THINK it would be as much fun as ever. Grown men ride bobsleds and toboggans. Why shouldn't a grown man ride a handsled down a hill?

In our town there was no place to skate. The big lakes weren't safe unless they froze deep, and when they froze deep the ice-cutters took over and spoiled them for skating.

There were no bobsled runs, either. It was a handsled town. I was one of the lucky kids. I had a genuine Flexible Flyer, trade name registered. My belly-slhammer was spectacular. I was king of Yeen's Hill.

Most sleds at that time were the wooden relics of preceding generations—high, cumbersome things that tipped over easily and weren't designed for belly-slhammering. They were too short.

With a Flexible Flyer, moreover, there was steering action. That was the "flexibility": the sled had a handlebar that wiggled—not much but some.

I WONDER how it would be...

There are two Flexible Flyers hanging in the barn. Their runners would have to be smoothed down after years of rust and dirt. But they never were used hard by their owners, because there were all those years when it scarcely snowed enough to justify ownership of a snow shovel.

I wonder...

There's a tricky hill north of the house. Maybe the gentler hill back of the barn would be better for belly-slhammering.

It would be an interesting experiment—the long run, the climactic spurt, the throwing down of the sled—and bam!

Come to think of it, maybe the lady of the house could be talked into coming out for the Big One where the girl slams down first—biff!—then boy runs alongside, adding momentum, and finally doing a double-decker for the death-defying ride.

How about that, girly? Sounds like fun, mmh?

The Torch Is Passed

Party Responsibility

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Who is fundamentally to blame for the mess in Congress? The Republicans? The Democrats? The administration in power? Or the people themselves?

David Lawrence way at present for the people to express their will on a major issue at the time it arises.

The foreign aid program is the ostensible cause of the confusion which last week stalled the adjournment of Congress but something deeper is involved. It's the failure of the American system to permit the people a voice at the moment when their opinion and guidance should be formally recorded.

All the recent talk about merely amending the rules of procedure in the committees of Congress is meaningless because it doesn't go to the root of the problem.

Once upon a time in American history—as recently as 50 years ago—there was party responsibility. A party caucus vote binding on its participants was customary.

Today each member of a political party in Congress is a law unto himself. He's subject to no party discipline. Even if he were, however, there is no immediate opportunity for the people to decide who is right or wrong. The people seemingly are outsiders—bewildered bystanders. They are told that in America the people rule—but this sometimes seems more a theory than a fact.

The American people would probably agree to the basic principle involved in foreign aid. But they wouldn't agree that the country aided could thereby ignore its own responsibilities.

THE AMERICAN people, if a referendum were held today, doubtless would vote overwhelmingly against allowing government credit facilities to be used to finance sales of wheat to the Soviet government. Just a little more than a year ago that same government in Moscow was financing the construction of missile bases in Cuba with the avowed purpose of using such bases to attack the lives and property of the American people. Has the leopard changed his spots so quickly?

Today there is a split in each of the two major parties in Congress. Why, it may be asked, are there, in effect, four blocs? Why, to be sure, is the Democratic party in particular split so badly in both houses of Congress? One reason is related to differences on economic issues. The other involves a surrender to political expediency by the Northern Democrats in an effort to attract the Negro vote.

Persistent attempts to try to change human nature by a process of legislative coercion is, moreover, beginning to split the Democratic Party among the voters in the North, too.

An argument can be made, of course, on both sides of the controversy over civil rights, but what matters is that the American people have never been given a chance to vote on this issue in a special election for members of Congress. Nor is there today a system that establishes party responsibility even when a regular election has been held every two years.

man in the White House is one of its own members. Theoretically, therefore, the majority party should have unity in its ranks.

Were it not for the vexatious civil rights issue, there probably wouldn't be such a bitter fight over foreign aid. This is not because these two subjects have any remote relationship to each other but because a Southern member of Congress can have a field day on foreign aid and please his constituents merely by opposing an administration that is getting ready to ram down the throats of the people of his district or state a public accommodations bill whereby the federal government would dictate to a businessman with what customers he must deal.

Even such a tough issue as civil rights would be resolved by the people if they had a chance to vote on a national basis for members of Congress when a stalemate on such a major question develops in legislative procedures. The mere threat of a general election often would be enough to produce a majority in Congress that would act expeditiously.

TODAY, if the people had their say, they could cut the foreign aid bill even more than it was reduced recently by congressional committee recommendation. They would, of course, refuse to authorize the lending of government money directly or indirectly to help the Soviet imperialists to wage war in Cuba or anywhere else against the free world.

It's easy enough to blame one faction or another in Congress or to argue that what is needed is modernization of the committee rules but as long as America has a system of irresponsible government instead of a system of responsible government and party responsibility—such as prevails in some other parts of the free world—more and more of the same kind of mess and confusion that arose in the last few days in Congress will be witnessed in our own country.

FBI Ran Oswald Check

By VICTOR RIESEL

During the 17 months preceding the assassination of John Kennedy, the FBI ran an espionage investigation into the activities of Lee Harvey Oswald.

The bureau had a ample reason to believe the alleged killer was an agent of the Soviet Union.

But nothing in that probe revealed that Oswald had violent tendencies or was capable of the murder with which he was charged.

These are some of the many reasons Oswald's name did not enter into the security discussions which are held between the FBI and Secret Service liaison men. Such talks are held daily in Washington here and in every city in which both branches have headquarters.

Contrary to gossip in some quarters, both agencies work as closely together as springs in a tiny watch. Secret Service chief, James J. Rowley, is a former FBI agent. Currently he is a member of the lecture staff of the FBI's National Academy.

During the intricate planning of security for the late President's trip, long lists of potentially dangerous subversives, cranks, "nuts and kooks" throughout the United States were culled, located and neutralized.

AS A POTENTIAL spy, however, Oswald fell into an entirely different security category. It's traditional in intelligence work for such men to avoid overt acts and try to blend facelessly into the crowd. Or sometimes, by indirection and misinformation they act in a manner designed to make the authorities conclude: "He would not be doing that, if he actually were in foreign intelligence."

Counter-espionage on the home front is the FBI's beat. It had been briefed on Oswald's free movements inside Russia. Bureau agents were ready for him shortly after he got off the boat at a New Jersey dock. That was on June 13, 1962. He tried to duck them but they interviewed him immediately upon his entrance into the United States.

Oswald denied that he had been contacted by any Soviet intelligence authorities. He denied any espionage intentions. But he was checked regularly in succeeding months. The last time the FBI interviewed him was in New Orleans during August 1963.

in a Minsk radio plant.

HIS MINSK work record was far more consistent with his technical rating in the Marines than was his incompetence once he returned home.

Oswald's Marine record reveals that he did well on his technical tests. He showed clerical ability, yet when he returned he sought no office job. He showed considerable aptitude in mechanics, yet he sought no job in that area. His arithmetic was good. While in the armed forces, he was able to analyze orders after reading them quickly. He even grasped rudimentary physics. Yet after he left Moscow, he shuffled from job to job always managing to get himself fired. Why?

There was much he could do for the Soviet intelligence apparatus. During his tour in the Marines, he was part of a small six man unit in Marine Air Control Squadron 9 at Tustin, Calif., near the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station.

This unit ran a radar air control center detail. It stood watch for many hours. As part of it, Oswald had to learn special codes, secret radio frequencies, call signs and authentication codes. He knew the inner workings and details of the vast electronic equipment. He knew the location of every unit on the West Coast. He was aware of the radar capability of every installation there.

SO IMPORTANT is this knowledge that when our intelligence forces learned he was in Moscow, the Marines not only changed signs and frequencies but also insisted on positive evidence of the destruction of the secret codes.

Obviously the Russians would give far more than a second hand droska for such information. Obviously it took a competent mind to remember all this. Obviously he could have passed on the information. Obviously the installations were not destroyed along with the paper on which the codes were recorded. Obviously Oswald could have been valuable to the Soviets once back in the United States.

Thus the FBI consistently checked him out. What they discovered, outsiders don't know. But they are investigative scientists, not mind readers. They are a counter-intelligence force, not a secret political police.

Neither they nor the secret service have the legal right or the army of men to round up all the "Oswalds." Other ways will have to be devised to protect presidents of the U.S.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm just one of millions of Americans who rides to work on the bus every day. Since so many people who battle buses read your column on the way to work I can think of no better place to register my complaint.

I board the bus at one of the first stops so I always get a seat. Within 10 minutes the bus is jammed and there are almost as many people standing as sitting.

The women who are standing always ask the seated passengers to hold their lunches, purses and shopping bags. Last Thursday I got grease spots on my new skirt from a leaky lunch bag. Yesterday I got a nice streak of mud on my coat because a lady had set her purse on the floor and then asked me to hold it.

This morning a young mother asked me if I would mind holding her child. Yeah—you guessed it. What do you suggest?—SITTING DUCK.

Dear Ducky: It takes an extraordinary brand of nerve to ask a stranger to hold parcels, purses, lunches and children, but people will continue to do it so long as there are people.

Carry a piece of plastic sheeting about the size of a small towel in your purse. This will protect your clothing against leaky lunches and muddy purses. Now about the last catastrophe—a woman with a baby in her arms should have been offered a seat. You had that coming, Toots.

Gabby Casanova

Dear Ann: I need to know what to do—if anything. Here is the story:

My husband is the chief executive officer of a well-known company. We entertained 15 couples (most of them business associates) at our home a few weeks ago. The guests were all people of substantial means. There was the usual amount of drinking, but no one seemed to be out of control.

Last week I received our telephone bill. The total was a staggering $188. The itemization indicated three long-distance calls across the continent, and two calls outside of the United States—all placed the night of our party.

I phoned the telephone company and denied knowledge of these calls. They said they would "check."

Today I received a letter listing the recipients of the telephone calls. They are all women friends of one married man. My husband knows the guest who made the calls.

What, in your opinion, should be done?—THE HOSTESS.

Dear Hostess — With the Mostess on the Bill:

Your husband should mail the bill and a note to the playboy of the Western world requesting that he send his check to the phone company since he obviously "forgot to have the calls charged to his home phone."

Male by Mail

De Ann: I was deeply disturbed at your lambasting clubs and organizations that get people acquainted through the mail. I was considering getting in touch with such an organization myself. My husband passed away three years ago and I'm terribly lonely.

The organization I had in mind sounds very respectable. It calls itself a scientific foundation for mate selection. This particular organization seemed especially high type to me because it is run by a medical doctor.

If such outfits can be dangerous, as you claim, how do they get away with it? Please reply in your column. Thank you.—FOR WAYNE, IND.

Dear Wayne: Though most physicians are competent and dedicated, it would be foolish to assume that every doctor is highly principled, ethical or well-motivated.

Use your head, Woman. Mate-finding agencies (they can call themselves scientific foundations or what have you) are not in business simply because they're a bunch of good kids. Wake up and smell the coffee.

Ah, San Francisco

By HAROLD V. STREETER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ah, San Francisco — cable cars, bridges, Chinatown, Fisherman's Wharf. Even Soviet Premier Khrushchev fell in love with the city by the Golden Gate, spawned back in 1849 by a capitalistic rush for gold. Let's have a closer look.

Now about those cable cars: at the turn of the century, 13 lines sent dozens of them clucking and clanging over the hills. Today there are 27 cars in daily service. And they are one big financial headache.

All repairs and all spare parts have to be homemade. It would be cheaper to use buses. A hard core of defenders, known as the Citizens' Committee to Save the Cable Cars, stands firm at the turntables just daring anybody to junk them.

Bridges: More than 21 million car trips are checked off yearly at the toll gates of the 4,200-foot $35-million Golden Gate Bridge. More than 40 million are recorded over the 8 1/4-mile $77.2 million San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. They're a life - blood trade artery, no question about that.

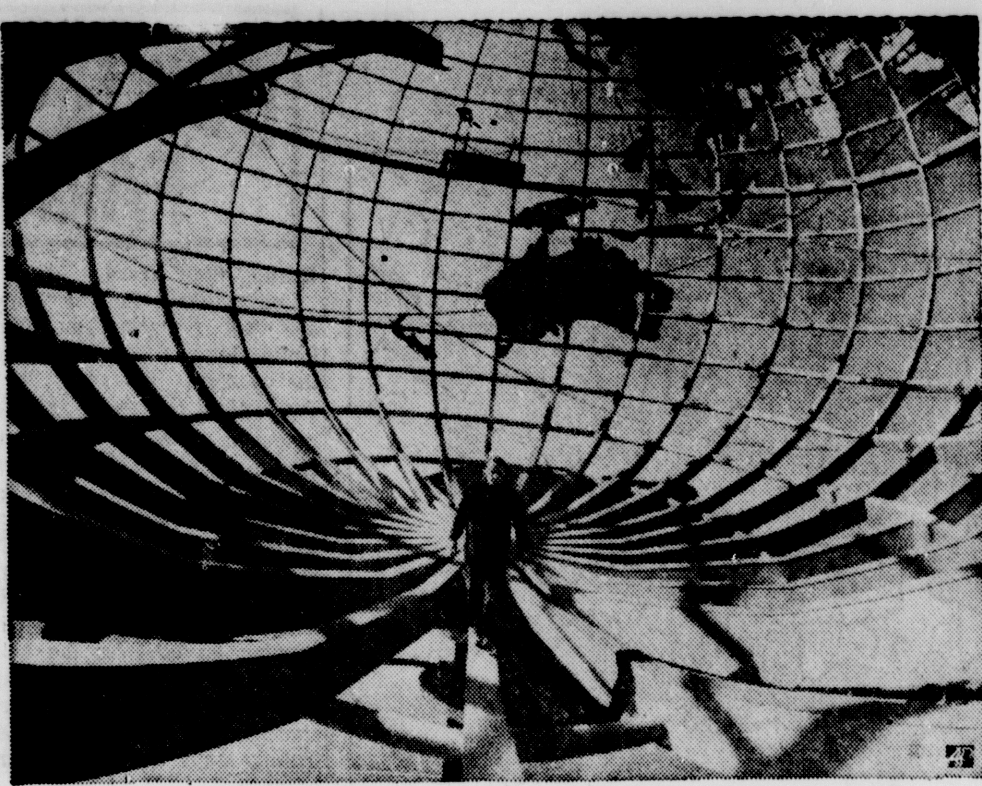

But there's another side of the picture. They doomed a city approach which was relaxed and eye-gripping — the ferries. And patrolmen are busy trying to keep people from jumping off them. Since the Bay bridge opened in 1936 and the Golden Gate in 1937, the known total death leaps exceed 300. It's an unavoidable price of progress.

Chinatown? You haven't really lived until you've been packed like a sardine amongst thousands in narrow Grant Avenue at the Chinese New Year parade—the man - footed, cloth-covered dragon; popping firecrackers splitting the ear drums.

Maybe you were among the couple of million who poured more than $115 million in tourist money into San Francisco this year. But if you stopped in a Chinatown store to pack off an oriental tidbit as a souvenir, turn it over and look at the bottom. The Red Chinese "bamboo curtain" being what it is, chances are you will read: "Made in Japan."

Over at Fishermen's Wharf, only the wharf stays the same. The fish and the men change. Time was when the bay shrimp were so succulent and distinctive that maestro Arthur Fiedler swore he could tell by the taste the difference between North Bay and South Bay shrimp. He can't any more. The bay shrimp vanished.

There's one other thing. If you are talking about a railroad, okay; but if about the city—don't call it Frisco.

Drought Areas Grow and Deepen

HOW DRY IT WAS — Newspapers, based on data from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, provide vivid illustration of how drought conditions worsened and spread in the United States between 1962 and 1963. The percentages indicate the current supply of pasture feed for grazing relative to what could be expected under very favorable growing conditions. As of Nov. 1, 1963, extreme drought afflicted all of Ohio, most of Virginia and Arkansas and much of New York, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Texas.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Ladies: When you store your little used linens, and this means putting baby dresses away for the next generation, or that beautiful table cloth you used only once a year or so, I recommend that you do not starch and iron them before putting them away.

The thing to do is to wash them and rinse thoroughly.

Place out in the sunlight to dry if at all possible) and put them away unironed. This way you will not have any starch in them, or ironed wrinkles.

Ironed wrinkles or folds, when left in linens that are stored a year or so... break down the fibers and then — because we do not rinse them well — we wonder why they accumulate vapors, odors and bad creases.

It's my suggestion that when you store these precious things, you rinse them not once but two or three times.

I recommend putting one-half cup of vinegar in the last rinse water.

THIS WILL eliminate soap film and it's only my opinion, but I'll stick behind it which causes deterioration and yellowing of stored materials.

So wash the article, rinse again in vinegar water, dry thoroughly, put out in the sunshine to dry, and then wrap it in tissue paper and store.

The material will be wrinkled. So? Who cares? Why waste energy ironing it today, folding it and tucking it away? You may not use it for years...

When storing things like precious linens and keepsakes, the storage should be gone through at least once a year. Here's why:

Sometimes they begin to yellow. This usually is aging, and since you haven't starched and ironed it... just throw it in the laundry again. You are preventing rotting, aging and deterioration of the lovely article.

YOU AND I both know that we don't use these things very often. I have had women send me gorgeous table linens DON'T send me yours! I can't possibly return these things that some sweet grandmother had washed, starched and ironed and stowed away in a cedar chest.

Wow, such messes! All caused from improper rinsing (soap film), starch, ironing and laying away too long without re-washing.

When storing them, I suggest that you buy any brand of bar soap on the market, remove the wrapper and place these bars of soap in the closet and this will help prevent that musty odor which often accumulates on stored linens. Besides, you can always use the soap in a pinch!

HELOISE.

P.S.: With all we have to do today, packing Christmas stuff away... aren't you glad you have an excuse NOT to iron that big cloth?

DEAR HELOISE: Often we have ambrosia or gelatin salads. Many times — in fact, nearly every time, we put bananas in these salads.

Buy an egg slicer at your dime store these cost less than (30 cents) and then you can use it to slice your bananas. They are perfectly sliced.

And do you know what: Bananas go further. You get about twice as many slices as you do with a knife.

ON A BUDGET.

Now, gal — I think you are the greatest.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I make my own dust cloths and find that they are quite dustless.

I use old baby diapers, which I find are quite soft, and soak them for two or three hours in hot soap suds to which I have added a tablespoon of turpentine.

When the water gets cold I wring the diaper out and let it dry thoroughly.

This dustcloth picks up and holds the dust and does not allow it to spread. When the cloth gets dirty I wash it and re-treat.

C. T.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a suggestion for those who have to go out in cold weather:

Take a plastic bag, such as comes from the cleaners, and put in under your coat between the outside material and the linen. Pin it at the shoulders! This makes a wonderful wind-breaker

DOWN on the FARM

Loading Stall Trend

Loading stalls for dairy cows are fast replacing the open loafing barn in most sections of the country.

A check by Farm Journal magazine shows that 80 per cent of the dairymen in Washington State—where the idea originated—have now switched to stalls. Some 50 installations were made in North Carolina this past year. Virginia now has 300 dairymen with stalls. They're popping up all over the Midwest. Even conservative Eastern dairymen, who have preferred stanchions to loose housing, see loafing stalls as a good compromise.

Virginia Polytechnic Institute scientists have found that cows in stalls in that state take 75 per cent less bedding than those in loose housing. Research at Pennsylvania State University and Cornell shows that it takes about 3½ pounds of straw per stall—about half the requirement for loose housing. At $25 a ton, that means a saving of $10 per cow a year on bedding alone.

Dairymen in Tennessee, Virginia and Indiana report a reduction in mastitis as a result of using loafing stalls. On a Tennessee farm, mastitis dropped from 18 cases a year in a 48-cow herd to almost nothing. A Virginia dairyman reports a 50 per cent reduction in mastitis; an Indiana dairyman, a 75 per cent cut.

'64 Census Due In '64

Every farmer and rancher will have need for records on his business in 1964 in order to provide accurate answers for the do-it-yourself questionnaire he will receive near the end of the year as part of the 1964 Census of Agriculture, according to the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce.

Each farmer or rancher will receive a census form by mail in October or earlier, and will be asked to fill it out. A census taker will visit the farm during November or early December to review the filled-out form, make sure that all questions are answered, and send the form to Census headquarters.

The "do-it-yourself" plan is expected to save several million dollars compared with the method used in earlier farm censuses in which a census taker asked all the questions and wrote the answers on the census form.

For the first time, the 1964 Census of Agriculture will include questions about income received from recreation services, such as hunting or fishing privileges, board and room provided to sportsmen, and questions about chemical sprays or dusts used during the year to control pests and diseases of any kind. The bulk of questions will deal with crops and livestock produced and sold, use of farm land and amounts of farm expenditures.

"The most significant census since 1940" is the description by Ray Hurley, who has directed the Censuses of Agriculture at five-year intervals over the past quarter century. "American agriculture has been undergoing wide-spread and massive changes and the Census provides the only accurate measures of those changes," Mr. Hurley said.

The 1964 Census of Agriculture will provide the first count of the nation's farms since the Census of Agriculture in 1959 and the first count of people living on farms since the Census of Population in 1960.

The number of farms in the nation decreased from its high point of 6.8 million in 1935 to 3.7 million in 1959. The number of people living on farms dropped from more than 30 million in 1940 to less than 14 million persons in 1960.

Attends Short Course

Robert L. Dickson of RD 4, Salem, recently completed a two-day farm income tax and social security short course at Pennsylvania State University.

'64 Farm Science Event

The 1964 Ohio State Farm Review will follow the same general pattern as last September's big farm show, but there will be some innovations keyed to attract even wider interest.

Dates for next year's event are Sept. 30 and Oct. 1 and 2. The site will be the same—450 acres of Ohio State University farm land in Northwest Franklin County.

Much of the deteriorating U.S.-Cambodian relationship results from Sihanouk's belief that the United States, along with its Vietnamese allies, is backing the movement of Cambodian rebels. The United States has denied any complicity.

their time" in getting to the legation to drive off the demonstrators. He pointed out that a militiaman is stationed in front of the building at all times and has a telephone with which to summon aid if needed.

He said the demonstration began shortly after 11 a.m. but the police did not arrive until 11:45. Then they slowly began to force the demonstrators away.

By 12:15, the spokesman said, the situation appeared under control, and the crowd had been driven to the ends of the street on which the legation is located.

But "the demonstrators are still down the street and we think it would be unwise for any American to try to leave," he added.

The spokesman said a protest would be made to the Bulgarian Foreign Ministry. The American minister, Mrs. Eugenie Anderson, is in the United States.

It was the first Bulgarian demonstration against the United States reported in almost two years.

On April 19, 1961, hundreds rallied in front of the legation to protest the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba. They hurled stones at the building and smashed windows.

In recent months Bulgarian Communist leaders have repeatedly hinted they would like better relations with the United States.

outside the corporate limits of the city, Columbiana County would have to contribute a lump sum of $50,000. The county could, however, use the $50,000 recently credited to it by the Department of Highways, Nelson explained.

Path of Proposed Road

If the project is completed, Rt. 9 will extend approximately 4,100 feet along the Granite St. and Pine Ave. lines to W. State St. (Routes 62 and 14 alternate) at the Rt. 14-A junction on the city's western boundary.

Existing Rt. 9 follows Newgarden Ave. into the city, goes through the industrial district and terminates at the intersection of State St. and Ellsworth Ave. in the downtown business district.

The state's action on the proposed improvement was prompted by requests from Salem City Council, which passed a resolution Sept. 17 asking the Highway Department to act on the proposal and meetings and phone conversations by state officials with members of the Salem Area Highway Committee of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce.

men flown to Cyprus to reinforce the 10,000-man British garrison, who are mostly Royal Air Force personnel untrained for street fighting.

From his ranch in Texas, President Johnson appealed to Cypriots to make any sacrifice to end "this terrible fraternal strife."

He also promised "to support any and all actions" by Britain, Greece and Turkey to achieve peace.

The conflict also caused deep concern at the headquarters of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris. Both Turkey and Greece are NATO members. An open breach between them over Cyprus would weaken the alliance's eastern flank. NATO's permanent council met Christmas to consider the crisis.

In addition to the British troops, there are 950 Greek soldiers and 650 Turkish troops on the island under the 1960 treaty granting Cyprus independence from Britain.

Since a Christmas Eve ceasefire, the fighting has simmered down to infrequent bursts of shooting.

Turkey and Greece became directly involved in the dispute when their troops, stationed at adjoining camps outside of Nicosia, moved into the capital Christmas Day. The Greeks said they took up positions in the Greek quarter after Turkish troops went into the Turkish quarter.

Fighting began when a Greek Cypriot police patrol halted some Turkish Cypriots. Each side accused the other of firing first.

New Summitville Officers Sworn In

SUMMITVILLE — Mayor Ernest Phillips administered the oath of office to two newly-elected councilmen and the clerk and treasurer at the monthly meeting Thursday night, which ended in a social hour.

Sworn in were councilmen Robert Carter and Arthur Kosko, who won seats in the November election, and Mrs. Marjorie Roberts, clerk, and Mrs. Earl Rogers, treasurer, who were re-elected. Jack E. Webb was sworn in two days before Christmas.

Courtney Pennell of the Lisbon office of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. explained the change in the firm's name to the Columbiana Gas Co. of Ohio. Bills totaling $575 were paid.

Seventeen village officials and their wives attended a social hour after the business session in Spears Market building. Hostess was Mrs. Howard Spears, assisted by Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Dominic Sabatino, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Roberts. Deputy marshal and Mrs. Forrest Young and Mrs. Raymond Arsuffi were guests.

Council will meet next on Jan. 16 at 8 p.m. at the township hall.

Fire In Leetonia Damages Residence

LEETONIA — Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed the contents and did extensive damage to a second floor bedroom at the home of Mrs. Mary Catherine Jones of Columbia St. early this morning.

Mrs. Peter Makar, a neighbor living across the street, turned in the alarm at 12:03 a.m. and nine members of the Volunteer Fire Department responded and fought the fire until 1:25 a.m.

Mrs. Jones' four children were at the home of a neighbor when the firemen arrived and Mrs. Jones was at work in Salem.

"The arm-twisting of Senate members to bring them into town to do nothing but rubber stamp the executive's demand is rash and altogether out of order," Goldwater continued.

Nixon

after reports circulated that Eisenhower had urged him to consider trying for the nomination. The former president and Lodge have not confirmed the report.

Replies to the questionnaire indicate that Goldwater's strength has been eroded, primarily, by two factors—President Johnson's reputation as a middle-of-the-roader, and the belief that the South will stay in the Democratic column for a fellow Southerner, whereas, in a Goldwater - Kennedy race, the Republicans might have carried some Southern states.

"I was a Goldwater man," said Eugene Bookhammer of Delaware, "but I think he's done now, assuming President Johnson gets the (Democratic) nomination. Things are now changed with respect to civil rights, conservatism and other issues."

In Georgia, Walter Nitcher of Columbus said of the situation there:

"He (Goldwater) was the opposite of the civil rights movement, the opposite of the man the South opposed, and the opposite of the Eastern liberal. With all those factors removed, he loses a good part of his strength."

However, a number of respondents in all sections of the country disagreed. Said Mrs. V. H. Moffat, of Colorado, a Goldwater supporter:

"I do not believe the basic issues have changed, as President Johnson has vowed he will carry on the Kennedy program and keep the Kennedy Cabinet. It is still liberalism vs. conservatism."

A number of respondents, noting that Nixon nearly won the presidency in 1960, said he has an even better chance next time.

"I do not believe Johnson has the following Kennedy had. If Nixon can run as good a race as before, he should win."

Rockefeller's divorce and remarriage again were cited as reasons why respondents said he is not the strongest GOP candidate.

A number of those replying said the nomination is "up for grabs" and predicted a dark horse would win it. In this category, Scranton's name was frequently mentioned.

Scientists — intent on searching the distant Martian world for signs of life—have looked for traces of water suggested by changing color patterns, and blues and whites on the planet.

Karrer is a chemical consultant, a pioneer in the early processes that enabled U.S. industry to reap nitrogen from the atmosphere where it is some 78 per cent of the earth's gases. Kiess is an astronomer at Georgetown College Observatory.

Mars and Venus are earth's closest neighbors. Scientists in search of life on other planets have concentrated on them for, like earth, they are neither too close nor too far from the sun.

But a U.S. space probe that flew past Venus indicated surface temperatures there were too high to support any known kind of life.

YOUNGSTOWN — A 17-year-old North Jackson boy was turned over to Juvenile Court yesterday in the hit-skip traffic death of John Ford, 50. He died yesterday morning after being struck by a car on W. Woodland Ave. at 6 p.m. Christmas Day.

Traffic investigator Angelo Kissos said the youth admitted driving on Woodland Ave. when he questioned the boy later Christmas night. Kissos said he checked the car through a license number given by a witness.

Kissos said the boy and his father washed the auto, but when asked about a cracked windshield, the youth admitted being in the accident.

Kissos said the youth told him he saw Ford in the street when he was about ten feet from the man. He said he heard a thud, stopped about 60 feet from the impact, checked the scene and left after seeing nothing.

Cleveland Benedictine Deals Salem 70-61 Setback

Lantz Makes Debut, Tallies 16 Points

By MARK W. MILLER

Another press, another loss. Cleveland Benedictine waited until the fourth quarter to press the Quakers, and the tactic was just the right maneuver as the Bengals clipped Salem 70-61 at Senior High School Thursday night.

Midway through the third quarter, the Quakers held an 11-point margin. In the first few minutes of the clash, the Red and Black stepped out to a 9-0 spread.

Neither team showed much finesse. Perhaps the edge was the board control by Benedictine. The visitors hauled in 63 rebounds compared to 37 for Salem.

SOPHOMORE JIM LANTZ, getting his first starting assignment for the Quakers, was the bright spot of the tilt. He led the Salem attack with 16 points.

Coach John Cabas had three sophomores, a junior and a senior in-and-out during the game. It was the first victory in seven starts for Coach Charles Reynolds' aggregation. Salem dropped its fourth in a row.

Going into the final period, the Quakers held a 56-52 lead. Baskets by Dennis Nagy, Dale Kulbago and Pat Emrich the first minute of play gave the Bengals 58-56 margin.

George Begalla made a push shot at 5:38 to tie the score 58-58 for Salem.

WITH THE PRESS causing the Quakers to make costly mistakes, Benedictine moved out in front as Emrich canned a basket and two foul shots and Kulbago, 6-5 senior, made an easy layup to give the Bengals a 64-58 margin.

After a free throw by Salem's Gregg, Benedictine's team captain Nagy, 5-6, came through with four foul shots and a bucket and the contest was out of reach.

In the second period, the contest was tied six times. Benedictine led on four occasions and Salem was out in front twice. The Quakers took a 19-16 lead in the first frame, held a 34-31 margin at intermission and a 56-52 spread at the end of the third stanza.

The aggressive Bengals blocked five of Salem's field goal 22 mistakes along the way and the Bengals had 24 turnovers.

FROM THE FIELD Salem attempted 61 shots and tossed in 23 for 37.7 per cent. The Quakers made 15 of 22 from the foul line for 68 per cent.

Cleveland tried 67 field goal attempts and swished the nets 26 times for 38.8 per cent. From the charity circle, the Bengals hit on 18 of 24 free throws for 75 per cent.

Gregg, off a little with his shooting eye, tried 20 field goal attempts and made five for 10 points. He added four free throws and finished with 14 markers.

Wayne "Binks" Washington finished with 10 points. Begalla, who pulled down nine rebounds to lead the Quakers in that department, netted nine markers.

Kulbago took scoring honors for the Bengals with 21 points. He also cleared the boards of 20 rebounds for the visitors.

Emrich chipped in with 16 markers and Greg Marn netted 10.

SALEM'S NEXT opponent, Akron North, has six regulars back, including all of last year's starters. Akron will travel here Saturday night.

Coach Bob White's aggregation leads the Rubber City Series and is unbeaten in five starts. Two of his returning lettermen are 6-6. His son Bob scoring with an average of 28 points a game.

Gator Bowl, East-West Clash Feature Grid Card Saturday

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Just as quarterbacks dominated much of the play during the regular season, they'll be at it again Saturday as the college football bowl business continues on a fulltime basis.

The four games on the schedule, though, are only a prelude to New Year's Day when the bowl season reaches its peak with the Cotton, Rose, Orange and Sugar contests.

Leading the parade Saturday will be North Carolina and Air Force in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. The other contests pit the East and the West in San Francisco, the Blue and the Gray in Montgomery and Coast Guard and Western Kentucky in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

Among the name quarterbacks on the various rosters are Terry Isaacson of Air Force, Don Trull of the West squad and Larry Rakestraw, playing for the Gray.

Isaacson, a colorful, clutch signal-caller, sparked the Falcons to a 7-3 record, including three games won in the closing minutes. North Carolina, however, is a slight favorite to halt Isaacson and win the nationally televised (CBS) contest.

North Carolina, which won eight of 10 games, will rely heavily on quarterback Junior Edge, end Bob Lacey and halfback Ken Willard. All won various conference offensive titles.

Starting television time of the game is 130 p.m. (EST). Trull, the Baylor star headed for the American Football League, will try and pass the West to its 19th victory in the 39th Shrine game. The East has won 16 times while four contests ended in ties.

The East will throw some giant linemen against Trull, including 255-pound All-America tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota. Wisconsin's 245-pound Roger Piliath and Ernie Boggetti, 242, of Pittsburgh.

Offensively, the East has quarterback Pete Liske of Penn State and Ron DiGravio of Purdue for the nationally televised (NBC) clash.

The game gets under way at 4:45 p.m. (EST).

In the 25th Blue-Gray battle, Rakestraw, Georgia's prolific passer, will have his favorite target, end Mickey Babb, on hand. The Blue team, basing its offense on a ground attack, will seek its fifth triumph in the last six years and its 11th over-all. The Gray has won 14.

Still another well-known quarterback, this one retired, is involved in the Tangerine battle Saturday night. He is Otto Graham, great pro quarterback who coached the Coast Guard to an undefeated season. Western Kentucky also was undefeated but was tied once in 10 games.

The schedule for New Year's Day has Navy and Texas in the Cotton, Illinois and Washington in the Rose, Nebraska and Auburn in the Orange and Alabama and Mississippi in the Sugar.

Salem Reserves Trim Benedictine 64-56

Salem reserves came from behind late in the fourth quarter to earn a thrilling 64-56 victory over Cleveland Benedictine junior varsity here Thursday night.

It was the second win in four starts for Coach Karl Zeller's squad.

The Red and Black took a 13-12 lead at the end of the initial period, held a 31-28 margin at intermission and a 43-40 spread at the end of the third stanza.

Pete Albertson, 6-1, led Salem with 12 points. Rick Klepper and Joe Shivers each had 10 markers.

Ed Fee paced Benedictine with 18 markers. Joe Kane collected 11 and Ken Drongowski carded 10.

Bills' Wilson Files Protest On Patriots Halfback Burton

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—With the Eastern Division title play-off game just a day away, Boston and Buffalo of the American Football League were involved today in a rhubarb over the Patriots' activated halfback, Ron Burton.

The Patriots and Bills met Saturday in the first playoff in the league's four-year history. But Ralph Wilson Jr., Bills' owner, filed an official protest Thursday with league headquarters over the activation of Burton, who had been out of action since pre-season drills. Wilson contends the action violates the AFL's constitution and by-laws.

A league spokesman said Commissioner Joe Foss would rule on the protest today.

In returning Burton to the active roster Wednesday, Boston apparently acted under a memo the league sent to coaches and general managers. The memo said either team could add for the game up to two players who had been waived or deferred during the season.

Wilson maintained the memo is an amendment to the constitution and by-laws. An amendment must be voted upon by the owners.

Buffalo Coach Lou Saban feels Burton, who underwent an operation for a slipped disc, gives Boston an advantage.

Burton gained 548 yards rushing last year and caught 40 passes for 461 yards.

The game will be nationally televised by ABC from snow-rimmed War Memorial Stadium. Starting time is 1 p.m., EST.

The winner moves on to the AFL championship showdown against the San Diego Chargers at San Diego, Jan. 5.

A sudden-death overtime will be used in the event the two evenly matched teams wind up in a tie at the end of regulation time. The Pats and Bills split two games during the season and finished with identical 7-6-1 records.

Neither team has ever won an Eastern championship. And neither team expects to play on anything but a frozen field, despite tons of chemical crystals and straw heaped on the turf in an attempt to provide a frost-free surface.

"A frozen field could put us behind the eight-ball," says Boston Coach Mike Holovak. "A frozen field will help the Bills a lot more than it will help us."

Not so, says Buffalo Coach Lou Saban.

"I'm concerned about the weather, which I think will be a big factor," counters Saban. "The footing concerns us most."

Holovak figures a frozen field would aid the Bills because it would have less effect on Buffalo's Cookie Gilchrist, a straightaway blaster. He says his No. 1 ground gainer Larry Garrison, "is a cutter and is best on a fast field."

Villanova Turns In Biggest Upset Of Season 77-73; Utah Romps 73-66

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Villanova's eager, active Wildcats turned a fifth foul and a string of seven into the biggest upset of the day as the nation's collegiate holiday basketball schedule whipped into full stride Thursday.

Eight major tournaments opened Thursday — and generally followed form in their first round action — 13 more are scheduled to start today and still another begins Saturday.

Villanova turned its surprise on previously unbeaten Dayton in the first round of the Madison Square Garden Holiday Festival, coming from behind for 77-73 triumph over the highly-considered Flyers.

The Wildcats rallied from a 66-60 deficit when Dayton's 6-foot-11 Henry Finkel collected his fifth foul with 6:54 to go. Moments later they reeled off a string of seven straight points for a 71-70 lead and weren't headed again. Finkel, limited to eight points in the first half, finished with 31.

Villanova, now 7-1, thus joined unbeaten Utah, Minnesota and St. Joseph's, Pa., in the Saturday semifinals of the Garden affair. Friday is an off day.

Utah pulled away from St. John's, N.Y. 73-66. Minnesota beat Cornell 9-77 and St. Joseph's outlasted Providence 60-53.

The other major events generally followed form, through New York University, ranked 10th in the nation, lost its third in four starts. It can't be called an upset, however, because the Violets wilted before mighty Michigan, unbeaten and ranked third in the nation, 83-74 in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic.

The other ranked teams in action, No. 4 UCLA and No. 9 Oregon State, had a much easier time of it. The Bruins, defending champions in the Los Angeles affair, bombed Yale 95-65, while Oregon State, which has won seven straight Far West Classics, took a step toward another one with an 87-57 romp over Louisiana State at Portland, Ore.

UCLA had no trouble in handling Yale for its seventh victory and joined Illinois and Pittsburgh in the Friday semifinals at Los Angeles. Illinois had to work hard for a 92-86 edge over West Virginia and Pittsburgh outran Southern California 82-72.

Seven-foot Mel Counts pushed in 48 points in Oregon State's rout of LSU in the Far West. Colorado State also gained the semifinals with a 61-56 decision over Iowa. The first round will be completed tonight with Brigham Young vs. Seattle and Oregon vs. Washington State.

Dayton, Central State Handed Initial Setbacks Of Campaign

By The Associated Press

Two more Ohio college basketball teams have tasted defeat for the first time.

Dayton and Central State carried proud 7-0 records into holiday tournaments at New York and Quincy, Ill., Thursday night, and by the time the night was over, Dayton had fallen 77-73 before Villanova and Central State had bowed to NAIA national champion Pan American 94-80.

In the only other game involving Ohio teams Thursday night, Xavier grabbed a thrilling 69-68 victory from Miami of Ohio, also in a holiday tournament.

The defeats of Dayton and Central State left only two Ohio teams with untarnished records — Youngstown (7-0) and John Carroll (6-0).

Dayton met its match in Villanova in a first round game at the Madison Square Garden Holiday Basketball Festival.

Villanova had taken an early lead, but the Flyers' Henry Finkel sparked a drive that wiped out the margin. Then Finkel fouled out with Dayton leading 66-60 and 6:54 remaining, and the Wildcats mounted their winning surge, which included a string of 11 straight points. That gave the Wildcats a 71-70 lead with less than two minutes left and they never trailed again.

Finkel led all scorers with 31 points, including 23 in Dayton's big drive. Bill Melchioni had 23 for Villanova.

Central State suffered its first loss in the 10th annual Quincy Holiday Tournament's first round. The quintet from Edinburg, Tex., was led by guard Marty Urand with 26 points, two less than the Ohioans' pacesetter, Kenneth Wilburn who had 28.

Ben Cooper's long jump shot with 10 seconds left gave Xavier its first round victory over Miami in the Queen City Invitational at Buffalo, N.Y.

It was a nip-and-tuck battle all the way. Neither team ever led by more than five points.

Miami's Charley Dinkins led all scorers with 21 points, while Thomas and Bryan Williams shared Xavier's scoring honors with 17 each.

Xavier will face DePaul of Chicago, 102-79 winner over tourney host Canisius in the other first round game, in the championship game Saturday.

Dayton and Central State will play consolation matches in their tournaments.

Seven other Ohio teams begin holiday tournament action tonight. Mount Union plays host to Hiram, Wilmington and Baltimore at the Mount Union Invitational; Bluffton goes to the Flint, Mich., Tourney; Ohio Northern is playing in the Indianapolis Tournament, and Steubenville travels to Michigan for the Spring Arbor Tournament.

McKinley, Ralston Win Doubles Match For U.S. In Davis Cup

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Grimly determined Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston, fighting tenaciously for every point, crushed Australia's famed tennis team of Roy Emerson and Neale Fraser in a bitterly fought doubles matches today and moved within one match of regaining the historic Davis Cup.

The American collegians battered their way to victory by storming the Cup-defending Aussies' weak link — 30-year-old Neale Fraser — in the marathon four-set duel in 102-degree heat. The scores were 6-3, 4-6, 11-9, 11-9.

The chunky, 22-year-old McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., and the slender, suddenly matured, 21-year-old Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., can clinch the best-of-five series of the Challenge Round by capturing one of the two final singles matches Saturday.

McKinley, who atoned for his loss to Emerson in singles Thursday by his magnificent play in the doubles, will oppose 19-year-old John Newcombe, the latest young Aussie tennis prodigy who lost to Ralston in a thrilling five-setter. In the other match, the two singles victors, Ralston, the reformed Peck's Bad Boy of tennis, and Emerson, the rangy, wiry, 27-year-old Queenslander, will meet.

Fraser and Emerson never had been beaten in Davis Cup doubles until they ran into the confident, razor-sharp Americans in the packed Memorial Drive Stadium on this hot, summery day.

After the 1-1 split in singles, the doubles became a pivotal match and the pressure told on Fraser. The Yanks broke him twice in winning the first set and they charged past him in the third and fourth sets by taking his services in the 20th and final game each time.

There were only a total of seven service breaks in the pulsating contest that had 7,000 partisan fans on the edge of their seats most of the time.

In the last two sets, with the pressure mounting with every shot, it was Fraser whose service crumbled in the end. In both sets, service was held until the end.

Thus the Americans, in their first appearance in the Challenge Round since 1959, are just one victory away from ending Australia's four-year hold on

'Mr. Gohio' To Promote State Travel

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Mr. Gohio, if plans of state officials work out, will become a familiar figure to Ohio's citizens.
Mr. Gohio is an animated cartoon figure invented by George E. Wilson, state development director, to promote travel and recreation in Ohio. Articles of incorporation for Gohio Inc., with headquarters in Columbus, have been filed with the secretary of state.
Purpose clause of the corporation states that it is being formed to "promote, encourage and stimulate the growth, development and prosperity of Ohio and its communities through maximum utilization of manpower and material resources."
The Development Office said that tourists, Ohioans as well as out-of-staters, will be encouraged to write Mr. Gohio for information. The address is designed to speed handling of mail, it was explained.
Mr. Gohio is described as a figure depicting action to stimulate interest in Ohio's growing economy and tourist attractions.

3 Who Fled Jail Face Charges

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Three prisoners who escaped from the Ross County jail Christmas night faced jail breaking charges today.
Two of the fugitives were captured early Thursday. The third surrendered to highway patrolmen late Thursday night.
The three are James L. Shaw, 24, of Chillicothe and Wayne Smith, 36, and Ronald Wallace Jr., 25, both of Pikeville, Ky.
Shaw and Smith were captured Thursday morning about seven miles south of here.
Shaw was struck in the face by shot when a farmer caught the three stealing his truck. He was treated at Chillicothe Hospital and then returned to jail.
The others fled, but Smith was captured a short distance away, where he was hiding in the snow, walking along Ohio 23 about nine miles south of here late Thursday night. Sheriff's deputies said he had come out of the woods and that he surrendered meekly.
"He was awful cold and wet," a deputy said. "I think he had just about had it."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Go Easy On Those Nasal Sprays

Every season brings its special joys, but special hazards always lurk in the background. How is your sinusitis this winter?

Dr. Brandstadt

Every cold or case of allergic rhinitis is a package deal — the infection or allergic swelling extends into one or more of the air spaces (sinuses) in the skull that is connected through a small opening to some part of the nasal passage. If the opening swells sufficiently to block the normal flow of mucus into the nasal passages two things may happen.
First, the air in the sinuses is absorbed and the partial vacuum created causes pain which may be above, between or below the eyes depending on which sinuses are involved.
Second, the infection causes an accumulation of thick yellow mucus in the sinuses and this adds to the jammed-up feeling or pain. Since the accumulation has less chance to drain during the night, the sinus headache is always worse in the first two or three hours after arising. Once a victim of sinusitis gets his head cleared out, he may be relatively comfortable for the rest of the day.

VIOLENT BLOWING of the nose may force infection from the nose into the sinuses and be a contributing factor to the headache. Another factor is excessive use of nasal sprays and antiseptics.
These may irritate the mucous membranes or they may cause what is known as a rebound phenomenon. As the effect of the drugs that shrink the mucous membranes wears off, the membranes swell up for several hours.
Since this is an effect of the treatment and not of the disease as is often supposed, using more of the drug to clear the sinus opening will only aggravate the condition. This is why any drug used to clear the head must be used sparingly, preferably not more than once or twice a day and not for longer than two weeks at a time.

THE MOST EFFECTIVE drugs in this category are ephedrine, antihistamines (especially if allergy is a factor), and phenylephrine. Nasal decongestants are now put up in plastic squeeze bottles. These are convenient to carry and easy to use.
When an acute or chronic sinusitis does not yield to this treatment, supplemented when necessary by suitable antibiotics, it may be necessary to establish drainage by an operation because the key to the treatment of any sinus infection is unobstructed drainage.

Q—I am 70 years old and I like to put the juice of one lemon in a quart of water and drink it whenever I'm thirsty. Is this harmful? Will it help my arthritis?
A—Lemons are an excellent source of vitamin C and the only harm that might come from drinking large quantities of lemon juice would be dissolving the enamel of the teeth. This is minimized by dilution in a quart of water. There is no evidence that lemon juice will either aggravate or improve arthritis.

CONFISCATE WEAPONS
CLEVELAND (AP) — Eight knives, two revolvers and a book of polio gambling slips were seized by five plainclothes detectives and a uniformed patrolman who were led by police Capt. Eugene Pfaff in an hour-long raid on the near East Side Thursday.
The raiders, searching for 25 armed robbers who have preyed on victims in the area for months, hit a half dozen taverns and several pool halls in a 20-block strip of Hough Avenue between East 65th and East 86th streets. Four men were arrested—one for possessing policy slips, another for carrying a knife with a blade longer than three inches, and two for having snub-nosed revolvers.

$2,016,300.00 IN DIVIDENDS WERE PAID TO OVER 67,000 SAVINGS ACCOUNT OWNERS OF THE HOME SAVINGS & LOAN CO. On December 26, 1963

It pays to save at Home Savings and Loan Company. Proof is the $2,016,300 in dividends which were paid to home Savings and Loan depositors December 26. The dividend payments were added to accounts of depositors. They'll be able to see how money "grows" when it is saved at Home Savings and Loan.

Incidentally, this is the 149th semi-annual dividend payment to Home Savings and Loan Depositors. This nationally recognized savings and loan institution was founded in 1889. Home Savings and Loan is a tower of financial strength and dependability — the place to go whether to open a savings account or arrange for a convenient and properly organized home loan.

To get your share of the 150th semi-annual dividend payment why don't you start the new year right and open a savings account at Home Savings and Loan?
